FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Dear Readers,

July was an action-packed month filled with enthusiasm, creativity, and achievement. Our students showcased their talents in Sishya's Sishquest, winning accolades and making the school proud. At the APL Global School MUN, our young delegates engaged in thought-provoking debates, enhancing their public speaking and critical thinking skills.

The month also saw vibrant performances at HIS Koreo, celebrating rhythm and expression. We were proud to host Innowiz, an inter-school event with participation from over 12 schools, featuring innovative competitions across culture, sports, and art—encouraging creativity and collaboration.

In sports, our students participated in basketball and throwball tournaments and are gearing up for Sports Day with great excitement. We applaud their spirit and dedication and look forward to more inspiring moments in the months ahead.

ENDANGERED ANIMALS

Endangered animals are those animals that have less population. These animals are threatened by us human beings and by changing environmental conditions.

Human Beings threaten these animals by destroying their habitat, hunting the animals or by cutting down trees. Examples of endangered animals are Ring tailed lemur, Rhinos and Honey bees.

We must protect these animals and save our planet.

Some simple methods to do this are:

- Growing more plants
- Stopping pollution
- Not wasting food
- And putting litter in the dustbin

If we keep our planet clean, there is a chance for these animals to survive by increasing their population.

Let us help protect these animals in small ways.
